

Contents

Introduction	1
How This Book Is Different	2
An Argument for Psychotherapy for Psychosis	4
Discrediting Myths about Psychotherapy for Psychosis	7

PART I. THEORY

1. Essential Problems in Psychosis and Basic Definitions	17
Some Basic Definitions of Reality	19
Jamel's Experience of Reality	20
Literal Falsity and Figurative Truth	22
Approaching Jamel in CBTp Mode	24
2. Biological and Psychological Models of Psychosis	27
The Pathogenesis of Psychosis	28
Current Biological Theories of Psychosis	35
Attachment Styles and Early Relationships	43
A Phenomenological Psychodynamic Model of Psychosis	48
The Self as a Primal Perceiver	52
Effects of Biologically Weakened Boundaries         on Psychodynamic Processes	54

3. Psychosis: An Autobiographical Play Staged in the Real World 58

- Psychoanalytic Object Relations Theory: The Script* 60
- Persecutory Psychological Objects* 64
- Psychological Objects in Ordinary Development* 69
- The Play of Ordinary Children, Fairy Tales, and Delusions* 76
- Trauma Lifts the Curtain on Opening Night* 80

4. Disturbances of Figurative Language, Concrete Metaphors, and Delusional Identities 84

- Loose Associations* 84
- Making Sense of Language in Psychosis* 85
- A Continuum of Metaphor* 87
- Metaphor and Affect* 89
- Psychotic Symptoms as Apt Metaphors* 95

PART II. PSYCHOTHERAPY TECHNIQUE

5. Treatment Overview and Patient Selection 99

- Patient Selection* 103
- Negative Symptoms* 105
- Thought Disorder* 107

6. Engaging the Patient 110

- Establishing Rapport* 111
- Practical Particulars of the Initial Meeting* 115
- Retreat from Reality and Informed Consent* 116
- Naming the Diagnosis* 119
- Confidentiality* 119
- Clarity of Communication* 120
- Reassurance* 120

7. Eliciting the Patient's Story 122

- Constructing a Timeline* 122
- Understanding the Evidentiary Chain* 124
- Encouraging Doubt about Delusional Ideas* 126
- Identifying What Most Distresses the Patient* 128
- Daily Life and Affirming the Ordinary* 129
- Defining Problems and Setting Goals* 130

8. Discussing Reality with a Psychotic Person	133
Finessing the Reality Question	134
Psychotic Symptoms as Tertiary Psychic Reality	135
Understanding Psychotic Patients' Sense of Reality	137
Conversation with Melody	143
9. Assessing Coping Strategies and Introducing Three CBTp Models	148
Coping Mechanisms and Maintaining Hope	148
Coping with Delusions	150
Coping with Voices	152
Introducing the CBTp Phase	154
10. Working CBTp and Psychodynamic Formulations	160
Defining the Working Formulation	160
The CBTp Component	160
The Psychodynamic Component	163
Paired Psychodynamic and CBTp Working Formulations	164
Edison's Working Formulation	165
Upala's Working Formulation	167
Starting to Examine the Core Delusion	169
11. Working with Voices and Other CBTp Techniques	179
Voices as Messengers from Within	179
Discussing Explanations for Voices with Patients	181
CBTp Toolbox of Techniques	186
12. Challenging Delusions	194
Alternative Explanations	194
CBTp and Psychodynamic Technique	197
Bearing Witness to Altered States of Consciousness	199
Blending CBTp, Empathy, and Psychodynamic Technique	202
13. Psychodynamic Interpretation of Psychotic Symptoms	207
Bringing Thoughts, Feelings, Fantasies, and Memories to Mind	208
Nonpsychotic Mediating Defenses	210
Affect Regulation	219
Translating Altered Perceptions into Thoughts and Feelings	221
Deep Vertical Splits in the Psyche	223

Disavowing the Feeling That the Psychotic Experience Is Real	224
Psychotic Symptoms Appear to Exceed the Capacity of the Person's Imagination	226
Psychodynamic Interpretation of Psychotic Symptoms in an Object-Related Frame	227
Developments in the Later Phases of Psychotherapy	233
Long-Term Outcomes of Psychotherapy	235
14. The Case of Ariel	239
Ariel: The CBT Phase	241
The Psychodynamic Phase	255
Postscript	263
15. The Cases of Asha and Kasper	265
Asha: The Woman Who Was Never Hospitalized Again	265
Kasper: The Man Who Murdered His Father and Sister	271
 PART III. PSYCHOTHERAPY FOR PSYCHOSIS IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR
16. Current Clinical Conditions in Public Mental Health	287
The Current State of Affairs	288
A Role for Psychotherapy in the Public Sector	294
17. A Template for Ambitious Psychotherapy in the Public Sector	304
Training	305
Obstacles to Reform	307
Supervision	321
Maintaining Hope in Providers	323
Afterword	324
 References	 325
Index	343